800 PERSONS ARRESTED

Election is on Today—France Votes Tomorrow

TOKIO — (Associated Press) — Preliminary estimates of the trend of voting in today's general election to choose 466 members of the new house of representatives were unfavorable to the government, even members of the cabinet admitting likelihood of gaining a majority is remote.

The close of one of the bitterest campaigns in Japanese history was marked by disorders in many cities resulting in at least one death and injury to several scores and the arrest of more than 800 persons for violation of election laws.

A session of the cabinet yesterday was devoted largely to discussion of its political future in the light of probability that it again will face a hostile majority in the lower house.

One element of the cabinet is known to be urging the cabinet's resignation at the election goes adversely. Other cabinet members, especially Home Minister Mizuno, are insisting upon retention of power at least until the imperial diet meets June 6.

FRANCE VOTES TOMORROW — (Associated Press) — The agricultural bloc will swing Premier Poincare into power again in tomorrow's parliamentary election, it is asserted by the government campaign managers.

France has 4,500,000 land owners, most of them peasants, among whom are about one-third of the national electorate. The farming interests, combined with the commercial and industrial forces are relied upon by the premier to supply him with an adequate majority.

The farmers have been making more money in the last two years than ever before and all are in favor of keeping M. Poincare in power.

TAX BILL DEBATE IS LIMITED

Senate Argument Put to an End at 2 O'clock Today

DEMOCRATIC RATES STAND

Insurgents Continue to Back Minority in Fight

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Action on the revenue bill, framed in accordance with the Democratic program, was hastened today in the senate under an agreement which prohibited debate after 2 o'clock.

Republicans vainly assailed the income tax provision yesterday in two attempts to upset the Democratic schedule, and the final showdown on party supremacy was thrown into conference, where the majority leaders are planning to make a stand for adjustments more to their liking.

A fight to tack onto the bill a farm relief measure and several other proposals, including one of Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, to increase the personal exemptions, was pending today when the senate met an hour earlier than usual to resume the debate.

INSURGENTS FIRM — Republican insurgents stood firm with the Democrats yesterday for the latter's income schedule, even voting against a compromise proposal to substitute the only slightly different plan approved by the house.

The income tax rates now in the bill provide for normal levies of two

DEFI TO COOLIDGE IS VOTED

President's Japanese Exclusion Plan Rejected by House

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — With its first report rejected by the house, the immigration conference of house and senate today had before it again the disputed question of Japanese exclusion.

After a bitter debate the house late yesterday voted 189 to 174 to defy President Coolidge and instructed its conferees to insist on July 1, 1924, as the effective date for Japanese exclusion and then voted 191 to 171 to send the bill back to conference.

Conferees were in doubt today on what their next step would be. Some members feared that with the president's proviso stricken out and a bill passed disregarding his wishes, it might be vetoed and the whole bill endangered.

RESULT OF CAR STRIKE

Fumes from the Stalled Motors Become Stiffling

PITTSBURGH — (Associated Press) — Scores of persons were overcome by automobile exhaust fumes in the Twin liberty tunnels thru the South Hills here today. Increased traffic in the tunnels as a consequence of a strike of 3,200 street car motormen and conductors, caused the tubes to become choked with the gases. First aid crews of the United States Bureau of Mines and the city fire department were rushed to the scene.

TUNNELS CLOSED — When the rescue men reached the tubes they donned oxygen helmets and went in. The tunnels were closed to all traffic and soon the rescuers were busy carrying out men and women who had collapsed. They were given first aid treatment and a number reported in a serious condition were sent to hospitals.

The tunnels form the main gateway into the city from five thickly populated suburbs. With the street cars tied up the tubes were crowded to capacity this morning, hundreds of motorists using this inlet to Pittsburgh from beyond the South Hills. Shortly after 2 a. m. a traffic jam tied up many machines in the tubes. The drivers, it is said, failed to shut off their motors and

Millicent Rogers, $40,000,000 Heiress, Leaves Paris for Home

ACCOMPANIED BY FATHER

PARIS — (United Press)—Bitter and disillusioned, pretty Millicent Rogers, heiress to $40,000,000, left for Havre—and presumably for home—today, her romance with Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstraeten ended.

The heiress in company with her father, had been booked to sail for New York this afternoon on the liner France, friends here said.

Colonel H. H. Rogers arrived ten days ago to take his daughter home. He was quoted as saying that a financial proposition probably will be made for Count Salm.

PARENTAL THREAT — End of the forty million dollar romance, friends of the couple here said, came when the bride's father quietly visited Paris, talked with his daughter and son-in-law, and insisted they would not receive a cent of the Rogers millions as long as they lived together.

Both Ludwig and the Countess Salm were disillusioned, a friend of Salm said. "They realized love cannot thrive in poverty."

The count was not at his usual hotel today. Attendants said he had "gone away."

There was no intimation here as to what was the nature of any financial proposition.

Bandits Escape in Auto With Supposed Payroll

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Seven automobile bandits who held up the East Chicago, Ind., postoffice early today escaped with between $25,000 and $30,000, according to estimates of postoffice inspectors here.

The money was being shipped by registered mail from the Federal Reserve Bank here to the United States National Bank of Indiana Harbor at East Chicago.

The money is believed to have been intended to meet at least one payroll as one shipment consisted of $20,000. The robbers selected four registered pouches from among 15 sacks of mail dispatched from Chicago, and escaped.

FOLLOWED FROM STATION — HAMMOND, Ind. — (Associated Press)—Seven automobile bandits held up the East Chicago, Ind., postoffice in what is known as Indiana Harbor at 7:30 this morning and fled with four pouches of registered mail.

The bandits followed a taxicab from the Pennsylvania railroad station to the post office and held up five employees as they were receiving 15 pouches of mail. They selected the four registered mail sacks and fled toward Chicago.

The bandits appeared as the sacks were being carried from the taxicab into the postoffice. Three of them rushed inside with drawn guns and held up five postoffice employees while their companions seized the four registered pouches.

Three Others Named in Jury Action at Canton

CANTON—(Associated Press)—Additions in the William L. Shaw shipping case were returned by the grand jury in a partial report of the May term made to common Pleas Judge A. W. Asler today.

E. Webb, superintendent of the Fairmount Children's Home, Robert L. Webb, his son, Dewey Clayton, W. R. Gilmore and Warren Saunders, said to have been members of a masked band that administered severe punishment to Shaw in a wood north of Massillon, were indicted on charges of riotous conspiracy.

Additional indictments charging assault and battery were returned against E. Webb, Dewey Clayton, W. R. Gilmore and Warren Saunders. At the time of the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Correll, the younger Webb entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery and was held to serve sixty days in the workhouse.

Two civil suits, one brought by Shaw against the alleged conspirators, and the other brought by the younger Webb against Shaw for his conduct with his wife and alienation of affections, have since grown out of the case.

The indictments were based on charges made by Shaw to the effect that he was taken to the woods by the younger Webb where the other members of the band wearing masks awaited him, that he was accused of improper conduct with Mrs. Webb, that he was tied to a tree, and he was whipped with a blacksnake while one of the men sat on his shoulders.

FLIERS MAKE 530 MILE JUMP

Another Leg of Trip Around World is Finished

CORDOVA, Alaska — (Associated Press)—The three United States army aviators enacting the globe landed safely at Attu Island at 9 o'clock last night, Pacific Coast time, after a journey of 530 miles from Atka Island in the Aleutian archipelago, according to a wireless message today.

The squadron under command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, piloting the air cruiser Chicago, made the trip in ten hours and fifty minutes, having left Atka Island at 10:10 a. m. yesterday.

The flight was made in fair weather with some head winds encountered.

The arrival of the aerial armada at Attu marked completion of the first seven divisions of a 27,000 miles around the world journey.

Despite strong gales, blinding blizzards and the loss of their commander Major Frederick L. Martin, in the neighborhood of Chignik, Alaska, the intrepid fliers have covered 4,500 miles in 61 hours and 55 minutes actual flying time since leaving Clover Field, Santa Monica, Calif., March 17.

From Attu Island, the aviators will traverse the longest single stretch on the schedule, an 878 mile jump to Paramashiru Islands, Japan.

Meanwhile no word has been received regarding the fate of Major Martin and his mechanic, who were last seen April 3 near Lake Chignik, 25 miles north of Chignik. Canine vessels and coast guard cutters continue to comb both the Bering sea and North Pacific Ocean lines. Dog teams carrying numerous searching parties, were scouring overland between Chignik and the extreme southwestern tip of the Alaska peninsula.

Additional preparations to enlarge the search were being rushed at Seattle where an airplane will be shipped aboard the United States coast guard cutter Bear late tomorrow or early Monday.

Lieutenant Earl H. Tonkin was scheduled to leave San Francisco today on a non-stop flight to Seattle where he will board the Bear for Chignik, the aerial base for the search. The vessel is expected to reach Chignik about May 22.

DELPHOS ORATOR WINS CONTEST

Oakwood and Dola Contestants Also Place in Ottawa Meet

DELPHOS — Clayton Wolfe senior at Delphos High school, won the gold medal prize in the Northwestern Ohio oratorical contest at Ottawa, Friday night. He spoke on "The Door to Success is Labeled Push." Hilda Weible, of Oakwood, won a silver medal for second prize, having spoken on "The University of Life." Eleanor Jennings of Dola, won a bronze medal for third place. The subject of her oration was "Listening In."

Wolfe, according to P. M. King, principal of the local high school, emphasized his talk with appropriate gestures and at times his voice rang thru the auditorium, impressing the audience with forcefulness, as well as the thought he carried out in his speech.

Two of the most important points of his talk were, first, the centering of the mind upon work, instead of the salary it drew, secondly the importance of developing the intellect at the same time as the body, making both healthy and not only one of those factors at the expense of the other.

As a result of Delphos winning, the contest will be held at this city next year.

The oration will be given in the local auditorium at the Commencement exercises.

Many attended from Delphos including three instructors from the local high school besides the principal, Iona M. King, they are E. Mauck, Misses Alma Lutz, and Ethel Beller.

OHIO PRISON IS OVERCROWDED

Local Men Swell Roll at Columbus, Sheriff Learns

James Clark, colored bandit and Ray Windbigler, convicted for auto theft, who were taken to Ohio state penitentiary Friday raised the total number of prisoners confined within the walls of the institution to 2,832. Warden Thomas told Sheriff Crosson.

The prison has cells to accommodate 1,800 with comfort.

Clark was glad to be returned to Columbus on account of the hospitalization which he will receive. He also hopes to serve out his time and perhaps evade the robbery charge which is hanging over his head.

Windbigler, who has served time in Pontiac, entered the prison office in a depressed frame of mind. Jesse "Froggie" Snyder, fourth member of the south side grocery gang under sentence was not taken with the others. He is still in the county jail. His case is being re-investigated with the intention of easing his punishment if circumstances warrant.

Paul Higbee, 25, glass worker, Rosemore, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery before Judge Fred C. Becker Saturday morning. He was sentenced to two years in Ohio state penitentiary, and the term suspended on promise of good conduct.

Judge Becker lectured the defendant severely, warning him that on other false step meant harsh punishment will be meted out.

LIFE THREAT IS WIFE'S CHARGE

Mrs. Carrino Claims Husband Used Pistol, Struck Her

Alleging that her husband, Paul Carrino, drew a gun on her and threatened her life, Mrs. Helen Carrino, 466 S. Central-av. Saturday morning in criminal court swore out an affidavit for the arrest of her husband.

In a complaint to police the woman said her husband entered the house at 7:30 p. m. Friday. During an argument he pointed a gun at her and threatened to shoot, according to Mrs. Carrino, who said he then struck her in the face.

Police were given the warrant Saturday morning and Carrino is to be arrested and held for the charge.

MARKERS FOR GRAVES OF WORLD WAR VETS AT HAND

Twenty-five markers for the last resting places of World War veterans in Allen-co cemeteries have been received by the county commissioners, and will be turned over to the American Legion to be placed on the graves Memorial Day.

PALESTINE BEING REORGANIZED

Farm Colonization Given First Importance in Plan

JEWS FINANCE PROGRAM

1,000 Immigrants Monthly Into Favored Districts

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Almost fifty percent of the $5,000,000 spent by the Palestine Foundation Fund in rebuilding Palestine as the Jewish Homeland was expended in developing agricultural colonization and in establishing a complete system of Jewish schools in the Holy Land, according to a report made public here today by Samuel Untermyer, president of the American division of the fund. The report covers the period from the organization of the fund March 1, 1921, as the principal financial instrument for the rebuilding of the Jewish Homeland, to December 31, 1923.

While the fund is supported by contributions from Jews in 51 countries throughout the world, over two-thirds of the money thus far has come from American Jews. During 1924 an effort is being made to raise $5,000,000 for the fund in America in order that the land can be prepared to absorb at least double the number of immigrants now entering the country.

Most of the Jewish immigrants now coming into Palestine at the rate of about 1,000 monthly, are city-bred and university-trained young men and women from Eastern and central Europe. The chief problem of the fund is to convert them into hardy pioneers able to withstand the rigors of rebuilding the land ravaged thru centuries of neglect, the report points out. This has largely been accomplished thru the agricultural colonization work, which is the basis of the program for the development of the Jewish Homeland.

41 NEW COLONIES

The Palestine Foundation Fund has established 41 colonies, now in a flourishing condition as a result of the pioneering work of these city-bred young men and women, operates experiment stations where valuable work is carried on looking toward the future agricultural development of Palestine, and carries on irrigation and drainage work to make present waste lands available for cultivation. The total spent on agricultural development was $1,351,759 or 26.53 percent of the total expenditure.

The expenditure of $1,072,344 on education, 21.05 percent of the whole, was used in creating a complete system of Jewish education from kindergartens to the Hebrew University, the latter situated on the historic Mount of Olives, with the first departments now functioning and the Medical College, built thru the efforts of Jewish physicians in America, to be opened this summer. The system comprises 131 schools including technical and trade schools where the young generation is given training to aid it in developing the resources of Palestine when they are graduated.

Other expenditures include: Aiding immigrants in getting established in self-supporting activities, $684,879; investments such as the Rutenberg plan for the electrification of Palestine by harnessing the Jordan River, and the General Mortgage Bank, which grants long-time loans for building construction, $481,680; providing employment for unemployed settlers on roads and other public works, $242,417; and sanitation, which includes the maintenance of 17 hospitals, clinics and dispensaries which have treated over 1,000,000 cases during the past two years, including Arabs, Christians and Jews, $374,368.

DISILLUSIONED HEIRESS

Millicent Rogers, $40,000,000 heiress, of New York, whose romance ended in Paris, on her way back home.

ROMANCE OF RICH GIRL SHATTERED

Financial settlement Colonel Rogers might make on his impoverished son-in-law would be, but friends of the count recalled that Salm recently threatened to "raise a terrible row if the Rogers family does not come thru."

MARRIED IN NEW YORK

The romance which began when the couple eloped and were married quietly by a deputy city clerk in the municipal building in New York, York, January 9, has been waiting for some months, according to friends of the count.

Von Salm, during a recent trip he made to the Riviera with his bride, was quoted as saying that "American women are too independent," while Millicent found that "European husbands are far different from those in America."

The money question was the real issue, however, friends said, as Von Salm admitted he practically was without funds except for a very small income from his Austrian estates.

Word that a break might be near first began to be circulated in Paris late last month when it was learned that the countess' father had sailed from New York for England to put his son in college. It was taken for granted then that he had heard of his daughter's unhappiness and was coming to take her home.

The rumor grew as reports of the financial straits of the couple in the Riviera were brought in by friends who returned to the capital.

ARRIVE AT HAVRE
—HAVRE, France—(United Press)—Colonel H. H. Rogers of New York, and his daughter, Millicent, the Countess Von Salm, arrived here from Paris on the boat train and went immediately aboard the liner France.

Great attempts were made for secrecy. Officers of the steamer were instructed to deny that father and daughter were aboard the ship.

It was learned, however, that Millicent was traveling merely as the daughter of her father and not as the wife of the Austrian count.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
Will you please answer the following questions for me?
I am to be married next month. Will you please give me the articles for a small, inexpensive hope chest? We are going to live in furnished rooms for the present.

Who gives the consent of marriage, if the parents of both bride and groom are living? Is the consent of all four necessary?
On which finger of your left hand should your engagement ring be worn? Your wedding ring?

If a girl meets a boy acquaintance on the street who should speak first, the boy or the girl?
How is my writing and English? May I write again?

"Thanking you in advance for your answers, I am
BOBBY

The following suggested list is given for the girl of moderate means: One-half dozen sheets, one-half dozen pillow cases, one dozen bath towels, one dozen wash cloths, one-half dozen linen guest towels, three, linen tablecloths, one woolen blanket, three luncheon cloths, one-half dozen dinner napkins, one-half dozen lunch napkins, one-half dozen linen glass towels, three bureau scarfs, one quilt and two counterpanes. Such things as pillows for a lounge or sofa, tray covers, bureau scarfs and vases when you move into your own home or apartment. The above list may be modified or doubled, as you wish.

If the bride and bridegroom are both under age, the consent of all four parents is necessary.

The engagement and wedding rings are both worn on the fourth finger of the left hand.

It is the girl's place to speak first. Your writing is very neat and your letter is very well written.

Yes, please do.

VETERAN MULE IS ROYALLY FETED

Clover Eating Days Follow 26 Years in Mine

MARION—(Associated Press)—The most mine mules live a very hard life, toiling underground in the moist dark drifts of the mine, "Spillertown Sam," the veteran mule of the Peabody coal company who died some time ago at the ripe old age of 32, was probably one of the most pampered mules in the United States.

Sam was in the coal mining business for 26 years and during the entire period was never seriously crippled or incapacitated, a remarkable record for a mine mule. In his declining years he enjoyed a life of ease in his private pasture near here, cared for by a special attendant and housed in his own private barn.

F. S. Peabody, chairman of the board of directors of the Peabody coal company, provided Sam with a ten acre lot, well wooded to shelter him in the summertime, had a comfortable barn built, and hired an attendant to look after him.

While in active service Sam averaged 20 miles per day, underground hauling coal, year in and year out. He showed special intelligence in regard to performing his work and whenever a strange man was assigned to drive him, he would direct himself and the driver to the proper working places.

Sam was very jealous of his pasture lot. If another mule was turned in to share it with him, he would grasp the halter of the intruder and lead him around the lot until he became nearly exhausted, then would start to kick him out.

OLD BOOK STORES KEPT ON MOVE

New Buildings Force Landmarks Into Dark Streets

BOSTON—(Associated Press)—

Boston books are on the move. Book-lovers from all parts of the country who have browsed at their leisure among the shelves of the quaint old shops in years past will have to learn their way around all over again as a result of the changes of the last few months, and others still in prospect.

Cornhill still has its second-hand book stores, but the tearing down of old buildings to make room for new ones has forced several of them to shift their location on the ancient hillside street. With the removal of Goodspeed's, specializing in old books, and prints, and Smith and McCance, shop from Park street up Beacon Hill and around the corner to Ashburton Place, that short street between the state house and the court house suddenly has become a book center.

But Park street hasn't lost its reputation. The Houghton Mifflin Company, publishers and booksellers, seeking new headquarters, moved on from No. 4 to No. 2 on that street, and the Adelway Bookstore, which started its career in an arcway entrance on Washington street in 1856 and since has moved twice, is about to take over the Smith and McCance quarters and adjoining space.

The Old Corner Bookstore, famous rendezvous of authors when Boston's literary fame was at its height, was then housed in the ancient colonial dwelling which still stands at the corner of School and Washington streets. A few years ago it jumped to Bromfield street and now the march of building progress has forced it to move again, this time only diagonally across the street. It is no longer on a corner.

The normal rates approved by the house were similar except for a five per cent tax on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000. The house surtax rates provide for a flat 25 per cent cut in the present levies.

The schedule would start at 1 1-2 per cent at $10,000 and graduate up to 37 1-2 per cent at $200,000.

soon the tunnels were clouded with fumes and practically every occupant of the stalled machines were affected.

When the tunnels were thrown open to the public several months ago it was discovered that air shafts sunk from Mount Washington, were insufficient to carry off the deadly gases. Bureau of Mine men conducted experiments and found that persons passing thru the tubes were affected by carbon poisoning. The tunnels, they said, were safe as long as motorists kept moving.

The Allegheny-co commissioners when advised of today's accident, ordered the tunnels closed.

HUNT CROWS AS SPORT
BEATRICE, Neb. — All Nebraska is hunting crows. E. Bigler of this city has popularized the sport, and in most parts of the state a bounty is paid on dead crows, making the pastime remunerative. Bigler's method of hunting is to use blinds, as in duck hunting, and he has found an imitation of the crow call to be an effective ruse.

RADIO INCREASES GOOD MUSIC

Only the Best Programs Being Sent Out by Stations

MADISON, Wis. — Radio is playing a leading role in the musical world, according to Prof. H. W. Dykema of the University of Wisconsin school of music. Prof. Dykema declares there is a tendency on the part of the general public to demand better types of music and quickened enthusiasm for musical harmony. He attributes much of this change to radio.

"Radio made its way into every little town and hamlet in the country and into thousands of homes," Prof. Dykema said. "With increasing interest in this modern discovery, the public is coming to appreciate better music because of the varied programs broadcast by radio numbers. Musical programs broadcast generally are selected with a view to giving the public several different types of musical selections. This has led the public to appreciate and want greater variety of music."

Radio also is influencing a change in so-called jazz music, which Prof. Dykema declares shows interesting modern influences. "Largely thru the influence of radio, jazz music has become more refined, complex and harmonious," he said. "Jazz is changing with the change in musical demands of the public. There is no need for a substitute for jazz music, because it is losing the barbarous, shrill characteristics which it first possessed."

CASE AGAINST FORMER DRY CHIEF APPEALED

NEW YORK — A move has been made to appeal the case of William H. Anderson, former superintendent of the New York Aanti-Saloon League, who is now serving a sentence of one year to two years in Sing Sing for third degree forgery.

The appeal was filed yesterday in the appellate division of the supreme court. Charles S. Whitman Anderson's counsel, intends to move for a preference which would bring the appeal up for argument in the near future, it was announced.

RICKARD SAYS ROMERO IS GREEN BUT MIGHT LEARN

LION OF ANDES PROVES AWFUL FLIVVER IN RING

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Quintin Romero, self-styled lion of the Andes, took a severe seven-round beating in Madison Square Garden last night to prove that there is only one Firpo in captivity.

Romero, imported from Chile by Tex Rickard to anger Firpo into action, proved a terrible bust as a fighter when he was stopped in the seventh round by Floyd Johnson.

Johnson gained little prestige, however, as it was the general opinion that Dempsey, Gibbons or Firpo could have taken both of them in the same ring.

Romero showed the stout heart that Parisians said he had, but he showed nothing else. He hit hard with his right hand, but he didn't hit often enough and it swung wildly. His left hand was much better than Firpo's but he didn't get much more out of it than Firpo did in his big fights.

The Chilean champion was powerless to defend himself at close fighting and Johnson cut him to pieces with right hand uppercuts as they were exchanging at close quarters or as Romero tore into Johnson with his head down.

Johnson's victory caught a lot of "wise money" in a jam. The smart gamblers figured that Romero had something in prospect and there was no good reason why Johnson should win.

When the Chilean was counted out after having been on the floor three times in the previous round, a bunch of gamblers made an attempt to assault Andy Griffin, the time-keeper, and then made an attack on several newspaper men. Police threw them out after a small riot.

Rickard said today that Romero still had some possibilities.

"He's got a fighter's heart. I had Jimmy DeForest look him over and maybe Jimmy can teach him something. He's kind of green but maybe he'll learn. I'm not thru with him yet," he said.

DREAM IS ENDED

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight imported by Tex Rickard as a possible successor to Luis Firpo in the American prize ring, realized that his dream of becoming champion of the world was still just a dream. On the other hand, Floyd Johnson of Iowa stood out in the minds of boxing critics as "the man who might come back."

The young South American's dream of wearing the most prized crown in all fightdom was rudely broken by the thud of his own body when the husky middle westerner sent him to the canvas in the seventh round of their ten round bout at Madison Square Garden last night. It was Romero's American debut.

But before he was eliminated from the heavyweight series, the swarthy Chilean reinforced the conviction left by Luis Firpo that South Americans can fight. Four times before the knockout, the invader, streaming blood, was beaten to the

Racing Is On At Historic Downs

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The curtain was raised on spring racing at Churchill Downs Saturday with the Clark Handicap, $10,000 added, for three year olds and upward at a mile and one-eighth, as the feature number on the program.

With an even week to pass before the three-year-old thoroughbred world faces the barrier in the Golden Jubilee renewal of the Kentucky Derby, many of the advance guard of visitors for the classic were here for the inauguration of the spring meeting.

The running of the Clark Handicap will mark its fiftieth renewal for it is as old as the historic Derby, although it has not always carried its present title. Until 1902 it was named as the Clark stakes. It was run by the late M. Lewis Clark who founded the Louisville Jockey Club in 1874.

Fourteen horses are entered. It was considered probable scratches would cut the field to a dozen starters or less. Indications pointed to a heavy track.

BALTIMORE—Hopes of a meeting between Zev and My Own in the Spring Handicap, the $7,500 feature of today's card at Pimlico were blasted when word was received from Sam Hildreth, trainer of the Rancocas stable at the eleventh hour, that the world's champion thoroughbred would not be here. He is entered in the $7,500 Elcisor Handicap at Jamaica today.

French Press Think Yanks Rough

PARIS—Attacks against the members of the American Olympic Rugby team were continued Friday in the Paris press. Several newspapers criticized the roughness of the American game and recalled the row in the Pershing stadium in 1919.

"The Americans are ignorant about Rugby," the Paris Midi commented "but they know perfectly all about wrangling street fighting and individual and collective pugilism."

The American players have been aroused by the attacks and officials are doing all possible to avoid any scenes and to prevent any trouble that might arise when the American team plays France in the final championship match next week.

After threatening to withdraw from the games unless they were granted permission to take pictures of the games in which they play, the Americans were notified last night that the French concern holding the picture monopoly would allow them to take pictures on condition that they did not try to sell them.

Mad Play Only Hope Of East For Derby

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Withdrawal of Sarazen, last year's two-year-old champion and St. James, conqueror of Zev, from the Kentucky derby, leaves the east very much in need of a hope in the running of the classic at Churchill Downs.

St. James, installed as the eastern favorite, when Sarazen was beaten last week by Bracadele, pulled a tendon in a workout at Belmont Park yesterday and was ordered out of the Preakness and the Derby by his trainer.

Sarazen, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's fine colt, was withdrawn the day before his trainer found that he was not in shape and could not be brought around in time for the derby.

With the two leading favorites out of the running, the east probably will play the Rancocas stables Mad Play and Bracadele. Sam Hildreth, trainer of the stable, has been working with Mad Play in the hope of making another Zev out of him, and the form shown by the colt has indicated that his hope may not be misplaced.

The defeat of Beau Butler, another highly touted colt, removed one more candidate that might have gone to the post with a lot of play. Wise Counselor, J. S. Ward's western colt, probably will carry most of the money in the classic, although reports were circulated that he is going well in his training in Maryland. He was scratched out of the Pimlico graded handicap Wednesday, an event that had been picked as his final workout for the Preakness.

COAST GOLFERS LOSE

The request of the Pacific coast professionals to be allowed to hold a qualifying round of their own for the national open championship this year has been turned down. However, guiding officials have taken the matter under advisement and promise favorable action for 1925.

BROTHER GETS JOB

Jimmy Johnston is no longer the manager of Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion. Jimmy turned the job over to his younger brother, Charley, after being named matchmaker for the Cronwell A. C. club. But if you don't think Jimmy is still financially interested in Johnny, you're crazy.

BILL TILDEN

Mr. Coolidge oughtn't to have any trouble making the Olympic team as an amateur after saying that the management of the tournament has been in honest and competent hands.

HERE'S THREE BOYS AFTER GOLDSTEIN

Who will get the first title crack at Abe Goldstein, new ruler of the bantamweights.
Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, one of the best of the new school, is qualified for a championship test.
Eddie O'Dowd of Columbus gave Goldstein a gruelling fight some months ago in the east and on the strength of that showing is entitled to consideration.
Eddie McKenna, a veteran from New Orleans, all but beat Goldstein to the title by punishing Lynch severely in the south, nearly scoring a knockout.
McKenna claims he "softened" Lynch up and thus made Goldstein's victory a simple matter of routine.

BARING TILDEN CAUSES STORM

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Bill Tilden's resignation from the Davis Cup tennis squad and its acceptance by the United States Tennis Association places the American team in serious danger of losing one of the world's most coveted sport trophies.

While Tilden's friends maintain that without him the American cup defending team cannot win against the formidable opposition that is sure to be represented in the preliminary rounds, the supporters of the association might take the position that his withdrawal only means the removal of a handicap that challenging nations have been feeling they could not carry.

Just before the challenge round next fall, when the identity and form of the challenging team has been established, it will be more logical to discuss America's chances of retaining the cup than it would be to draw conclusions at this early date.

But, certainly, it is safe to say now that the American team, without a sure two-point winner, will not be as strong as it would have been with Tilden. The big American champion is, by general admission, the greatest player in the world and the American team could safely chalk up a victory in two singles matches before Tilden took the courts, regardless of the competitor he was drawn against.

Bill Johnston, Dick Williams, Vinnie Richards and Watson Washburn will have to carry the burden of defense, and their shoulders are none too broad for the load. Johnston is not physically qualified to stand up under the strain of two hard singles matches, and Williams is such an in-and-outter that he is not a sure bet in even one match.

Vinnie Richards isn't sure of getting a call to start in more than one match. Perhaps he may take it into his head to withdraw from the team and join Tilden in carrying the fight against the association on the player-writer issue.

The atmosphere around New York is very much charged with the influence of the association, and perhaps it was only natural that an observer should gain the impression here that the association had won a popular decision in deciding to stick to its ground and insist that Tilden would be a professional next year if he does not stop writing as a profession.

During the recent Pennsylvania relay carnival in Philadelphia, however, it was learned in discussion with prominent sportsmen from the south, midwest and far-west that a very pronounced feeling of protest against the official attack on Tilden has developed since the association took off its glove and reached for the club.

One prominent sportsman, a wealthy football, polo, tennis and athletic follower, expressed the opinion that Tilden will have mustered enough public support by the end of the year to force the association to back down and make an exception of the anti-writing rule in his case.

He said he had found during extensive winter travels over the country that the general run of tennis fans and sportsmen did not believe that the writing of articles for the public press was a serious offense and that the association was getting a little too "grand motherly" in wagging war for the correction of fancied wrongs.

It was the feeling of resentment against Tilden in the little group of dictators that caused one of the members of the Davis Cup committee to bawl out Tilden in the club house during the intermission in the doubles match of the challenge round.

In view of many other things learned in confidence it seems quite possible that the association had reasons other than Tilden's writing activities for declaring him an "evil influence" and that those reasons were not in keeping with the spirit of real sportsmanship.

In Squared Circle

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Morris Schaffer, Omaha middleweight, stopped Harry Martone, Jersey City, in the sixth round. Joe Stoeckel, New York heavyweight, stopped Tommy Gardner, California, in the third round.

NEW YORK—Backing up the Massachusetts boxing commission the New York commission suspended Harry Martone, middleweight champion, and Kid Norfolk, colored light heavyweight for six months, for an unsatisfactory bout in Boston. Unless the Massachusetts commission releases Greb, he will not be permitted to meet Jack Delaney at the milk fund benefit next month.

NEW YORK—Dave Shade, California, welterweight was picked by the New York boxing commission as the logical contender to meet Mickey Walker, in a championship fight. Walker has promised to defend his title against any opponent selected by the commission.

AURORA, Ill.—Because of inclement weather, the Ernie Jones-Harrie Schaeffer bout, scheduled for this city Friday night was postponed until next Tuesday.

ST. PAUL—Jimmy Delaney out-pointed Cliff Kramer in ten rounds here Friday night. Jack Joseph beat Dago Joe Gans in the semi-main event.

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—After four days preliminary training for his bout May 11 with Georges Carpentier at Michigan City, Ind., Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul, light heavyweight, leaves Saturday for Grand Beach, Mich. where he will begin intensive training for the match. He plans to put himself in fighting trim in ten days or two weeks.

Van Wert Wins Game From Delphos

DELPHOS—Van Wert High school nine staged a comeback in the game with Delphos High and won by a score of 10-7. Both teams had the same number of hits, but Delphos failed to show up in usual good form, having an off day in the field as well as at bat. The Van Werters were equally as inconsistent regarding the battery work.

Evans was in the box for the locals for the first six innings, when Williams relieved him. Hummer, for the locals, made the record hit by lifting one high over the heads of the outfield for a home run.

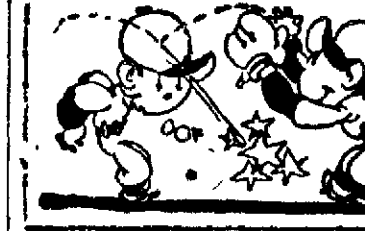

Lineups and summary: Van Wert, Leaver, 2b; Conn, ss; Tomeroy, cf; Starkey, p; Drury, rf; Altha, lf; Hartman, 3b; Greenwald, 1b; and Pennel, catcher. Delphos, McDonald, lf; Hicks, cf; Hummer, 2b; R. Bigelow, ss; Evans, p; Elche, c; Owens, 1b; Kiggins, 3b; and Moots, rf.

Score: Van Wert 0 0 2 2 3 2 4 10—10
Delphos 0 0 1 1 1 0 1 0—7
Conroy will journey to this city next Friday and meet the locals on the East Cleveland-at diamond.

ST. JOHNS IN LIMA

DELPHOS—St. Johns High school of this city left Saturday afternoon to meet the Lima St. Johns High at that city. An unprecedented rivalry has sprung up between the two schools, and the report from the local captain and manager, Schmidt, is to the effect that another win will be forthcoming. Interested fans will await the outcome of the afternoon game.

SNAPPY SPORTS

AKRON—A nineteen day race meeting for running horses opens at North Hampton Park near here today. Seven races will be decided daily.

CLEVELAND—Allen H. Elward, former Notre Dame star, has been appointed coach of football, basketball and track at John Carroll University here to succeed Ike Martin, resigned. Elward at present is coach at Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(United Press)—With a slight drizzle falling and a raw east wind kicking up a swell in the Charles river, prospects were not good for the Harvard-Columbia-Pennsylvania rowing races this afternoon. The varsity race last on the program, was scheduled to start at 6 p. m. the freshman race starting the program at 4:30 and the junior varsity and 50-pound crew events following at 30-minute intervals. Under the conditions, the heavier Harvard more accustomed to rough water, was regarded as the favorite in the varsity race.

Central High Going To Ottawa

Ten athletes of the Central track team will go to Ottawa Saturday afternoon where they will run in the annual Putnam-to-Track Meet to be held at the Fairgrounds there. Although the Central team will not try for any of the records which are at stake they will show their best in each event. Coach Theibert wanted his men to get some experience and decided to send them to the Ottawa meet. Their points will not be counted in the scoring.

Captain Bob King will lead the Red and Green outfit and Theibert stated Friday evening that the 500 entered in the meet would have to step some fun to beat his boys to the tape.

Those who will enter their events are: King, broad jump, high jump, javelin; MacDonald, high and low hurdles, high and broad jumps; Doan, high and low hurdles, high and broad jump, bladder and Shrader, dashes, 400, 800, 1600 and Van Horn, distance events, Herbert and Stanger, weight events.

HAUGHTON DISAPPOINTED

Perry Haughton didn't get a big kick out of the way Columbia football aspirants turned out for spring practice, or rather failed to turn out. Sixty-eight names appeared on the roster but the daily attendance was always under forty.

FEARS TRICK PITCHING

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees says he fears the use of too many old balls will cause a revival of trick pitching. Connie Mack says he hopes some of his trickers make the most of the possibilities.

JACK DEMPSEY—I'm glad to hear that Cal wants to do business with all the nations in the world. I suppose he's being influenced a whole lot by the success I had with this guy Firpo from South America.

BUT ONE GAME PLAYED IN BIG SHOW YESTERDAY

Manager Hendricks is said to have been so offended at the tactics of the Cardinal management in sneaking around the corner instead of playing ball that vindictives were even hurled at the city of St. Louis itself. Hendricks contends that the full four games could have been played. Friday about 1 o'clock there was a slight drizzle of rain, which soon stopped. This was excuse enough for Rickey and as on previous days he called the game off, while a small bunch of disgruntled fans hiked homeward. The Reds, however, injected method in their madness and had a good workout thruout the afternoon. Four days of idleness is unprecedented in major league history.

under anything like similar circumstances. Jake Daubert tells the tale that while he was a member of the Brooklyn team, while in that same city, they laid off thruout the series of four days, but it did rain all that time and rained out. But the circumstance is father to the thought, and will probably be the cause for a new rule whereby the local management will not have full power to determine whether a game shall be played or not; that the umpire and the visiting manager shall have a voice.

COST CINCY GAMES

This enforced idleness has undoubtedly cost Cincinnati games. It is only reasonable to suppose that they would have won from St. Louis and thereby would have been closer to the Giants, or perhaps leading the league. There is only a single game dividing them this Saturday afternoon.

McGraw is after the fourth consecutive pennant and with today where he comes out of the east, he will be forced to use all his famous strategy to pull thru to a satisfactory end. He has 15 games to play, ending May 25 against teams that are admittedly stronger than any of the eastern clubs. It is certain that if one judges from the games his team won by very narrow margins, he will find the going much more difficult than he has played so far this season. The games at Cincinnati will be looked forward to with a great deal of interest. To a certain extent the result will determine whether or not Cincinnati is keeping up to prognostications of experts. The Reds do to a certain figure stronger than the Giants, but will they win from them? That's all absorbing question. The strongest team doesn't always win the game.

BOSTON GETS TROUBLE SOME

For the first time in several years the Boston teams are getting troublesome to those clubs with championship aspirations. The recent manager of the Braves is whipping his team into playing strength which is sure to get no less and most likely increase in playing strength. Friday they beat the Pirates. It was a loosely played game, but the Braves hit the ball hard and often, proving that they have developed strong offensive tactics. So far as the Boston Reds are concerned they are now in the first division and playing a brand of ball that cannot help but win many games before the end of the season.

Will the outlook change as the eastern contingent comes out to the west? Beginning today Brooklyn plays Cincinnati, the Giants play Rickey's quitters—it's a clinch that they'll not play the same tactics on McGraw that they did on Hendricks—another chance to fatten their standing in the league; Boston plays Pittsburgh and Cy Williams & Co. will fight it out with the Cubs.

American league teams of the west get into struggles with Eastern teams. Chicago at New York; St. Louis at Boston; Cleveland at Philadelphia and Detroit at Washington.

SEAVES STRAYS

Three Pittsburgh pitchers were unable to turn back the Boston team in a loose game played on Friday night. The count was 10 to 7. Catcher, coach, of Pittsburgh, was ejected from the game when he disputed a decision. (Lore Quigley). The score:

STRAIGHT DORN REBENT

If your Uncle Sam wants to keep the law away from the horrors and handicaps of this country, that's his business. Personally, I am more interested in the matter than Bellingh Side would be in an empty gin bottle. Why? Well, I am not a native born, but I am a citizen and I am in for high-balling in a serious way. I ought to aim the star-spangled dorn at the face of all alien annoyances, to wit—

Leisurely with superior airs and inflated bank balances who come over here and tell us where to get off, and why monies should never be worn in showy baubles.

French pugs who say they'll fight at the drop of a hat and then drop at the sight of a left hook.

Wild bulls of the Tropics and other varieties of dumb and cattle that feast contentedly, if not appreciatively, on the long green.

Russian revues that show us what subtle comedy really is, thereby increasing our appreciation of Ben Turpin.

Long-eared philosophers who talk of the evils of America and then wind up by having a check cashed.

German wrestlers who run mainly to double chins and triple defeats.

Cruising steamships with a message, always a collect.
